About Dramatica and our chefs

Alistair Hunt is our Executive Chef and has worked as a Chef and Head Chef for over 24 years. He currently manages catering in several independent schools as well as running workshops. Ali is passionate about teaching children all about food and nutrition in a fun and inspiring way, and encourages them to cook the things they love from scratch, using fresh ingredients. We are excited to work with a number of other chefs in rolling out our cookery courses!

Dramatica is a company devoted to the development of children in drama and life skills. All our staff hold full DBS checks and have extensive training. We encourage all children to work as a team towards a final goal!
